His and Hers: The Luxury Spa Holiday Gift Guide 2015

NOV 15, 2015

There are those who delight in luxury objects, and then there are those who insist that they prefer experiences above material things.

For the latter, there's only one way to go: the gift of a relaxing spa treatment. Wherever their travels take them, we're willing to bet that they'll gladly accept a massage or facial should it come their way. This year, our list includes black diamond facials (for men), chocolate body treatments (for women) and 10 other, decadent options.

Below, our 2015 guide to the best his and hers spa treatments around the world. You may not be able to wrap these up, but they're sure to delight nonetheless.

The Sebastian, Vail

Crazy Mountain Pale Ale Pedicure ($85; 50 minutes) Those who need a break after a long day of skiing could take a dip in the steaming hot tubs—or perhaps indulge in a pedicure. The treatment gets a boozy kick with a beer bath for feet (and a side of Vail's locally brewed pale ale for sipping). Legs and feet are exfoliated, massaged and buffed so that no callouses or dry patches linger behind.
